Our Commercial Waste Solution

Did you know the team at West Lindsey District Council can manage your commercial waste and recycling?

We've got a fleet of refuse vehicles and highly skilled staff. We already provide an award-winning service to 41,000 homes and it makes so much sense to share this excellent resource with business people. We do things differently here though: we have no shareholders to answer to, so we aren't driven by profit. We work only to benefit our residents and you, the local business community.

- Competitively priced, highly flexible and tailored to your business.
- No hidden cost or sneaky small print: we don't charge for VAT, bin rental or Waste Transfer Notes.
- No tie-in contracts, but you can still spread your costs with a direct debit.
- Unrivalled local knowledge, our two depots sit within the district and our crews know every hidden corner. We can easily reach your door and respond rapidly when you need us.
- Variety of container sizes and recycling options too.
- Become a greener business – 100% certified landfill diversion for all your waste.

BIG BENEFITS
BUSINESS!

Over 200 local businesses already use us, like Uncle Henry's...

Emma Ward, general manager at the shop, says she switched provider to West Lindsey seamlessly.

// We're really pleased with the trade waste service provided by the council. We started off with the recycling bins, because the wide range of materials collected made it easy for us to do our bit for the environment. We then moved to the refuse service after we realised how much money we could save. Bins were delivered straight away and we could start the collection with no fuss the very next week. In our business, we are always keen to use the local suppliers and West Lindsey's excellent customer service and prompt, reliable collections mean that we wouldn't trust anyone else to get the job done now. //

Is my waste going to the right place?

Did you know that by law, it's the responsibility of any commercial activity to manage the waste it produces? That's any material or item your business has no further use for and wishes to be removed. You have a legal "Duty of Care" that starts from the moment you produce the waste, and continues until you give it to a licensed waste business to deal with. Make sure they supply you with the proper documents though, or you still may not be covered.

You must check how any waste contractor you use deals with what you've discarded. If they're fly-tipping 'cowboys', the fine comes straight back to you.

- How compliant am I right now?
- What should I do with my waste?
- Do I have the right legal paperwork ready for inspection?

If you are disposing of business waste in a household bin or council tip you could be breaking the law and at risk of a fine.

Compliance with your waste Duty of Care is regulated by the Environment Agency; waste carriers must be registered with them. You can find out if your collection company is 'legit' by
